Monkey 47 Gin, Germany	47%	6.50
An unusual gin from the Black Forest in Germany, Monkey 47 contains a unique ingredient. No, not that. Cranberries. The 47 comes from the number of botanicals that go into this unique gin, and the fact it's bottled at a healthy 47%.

This very northerly gin features an alluring botanical selection including locally harvested Rhodiola Rosea, Rowan Berries, Sea Buckthorn, Blueberries, Verbena, Coriander Seed, Cardamom and Juniper from two different countries, Italy and Bulgaria. ### Port Charlotte 10 Year, Islay, Scotland

50% 8.50

A heavily peated, trickle-filtered Islay malt, made under the same roof as the softer Bruichladdich. 100% Scottish Barley, with a flavour that is like a cross between Bruichladdich, Bowmore and Lagavulin - but in my mind its sweeter edge is more suited to an after dinner malt.

Laphroaig 10 Year, Islay, Scotland

40% 7.25

The favourite of most submariners and yacht-people. This is a smoky, brine and seaweed infused whisky, spicity and powerful with an unyielding heat and iodine coated character. Close your eyes and you could be stood on a wind raked shore on a stormy night, smelling iodine and spume from the waves and hearing the roar of mother nature bellowing her power in your ears.

Talisker 10 Year, Skye, Scotland

43% 7.25

Situated on the shores of the sea loch on Skye's green and softer edges south side, neath the towering Cuillin Mountains, this distillery has suffered much in the past 200 years, from being burned to the ground more than once, a murder scene and mayhem from smugglers and neer'do wells from time to time. This flagship distillery makes a whisky best described as spicy, peaty lava, such is its intense iodine and smoky character, warming the cockles and burning its way into your heart forever.

Glenlivet Founders Reserve 15 Year, Speyside, Scotland

40% 7.50

Gorgeous, soft and smooth spey malt, showing why this is the world's top selling malt whisky. Genteel in many ways, and judged perfect for those starting their malt 'career'. Try it with a drop of water and a good book. This distillery is famed for being the first licensed distillery in the UK.

Nikka from the Barrel, Japan

The softest, smoothest and lightest of the Irish malts, distilled 3 times to ensure a fresh, clean and evocative flavour profile, albeit gentle and slightly undulating from sweetness to dryness in character. Best served pre dinner or post if you've already reached the joint equilibrium of an Irish poet.
